CORPORAL PUNISHMENT

SUGGEST PRAYER AND TEARS SHOULD BE USED INSTEAD OF THE "ROD"

The Los Angeles ministers are becoming hard run for something about which to talk, so have taken up the question of corporal punishment in schools, claiming that prayer and tears should be used instead of the rod. The corporal punishment question has been suggested to them by the punishment given to the son of Rev. Baker P. Lee at a military school recently

Perhaps the Lee case was an exceptional one and the less said about it the better. The father and the son, the instructors and the court will likely inquire into the merits of the case. There is no wise teacher who advocates corporal punishment, but there are instances in which it is for the good of the school for it to be known by the pupils that a teacher has the right to maintain order, whether it be by prayer, kind words or the use of the rod.

The publisher of the Evening News readily recalls an instance when he was a lad of eight years of age. His teacher kept him after school to make up work in the old Sanders speller. Meanness and stubbornness got control of the writer, so instead of proceeding to learn to spell the words, he turned his book wrong side up and sat in a pouting mood. The teacher presumably noticing the picture on the cover of the book, which was inverted, made a request that attention be given to the lesson. The position of the book remained unchanged until the teacher hastily stepped forward and gave the stubborn boy a right sharp cut with a whip. The book turned in right position immediately and the print in the spelling book became so large and clear, and the writer could see the words he failed to spell stand out so prominently on the page, that he learned how to spell them, and never missed them in class again.

That act of a well-meaning lady teacher was worth thousands of dollars to the writer. He got just what he needed and he got it just when nothing else would have worked so well. Prayers and tears are all right some times, but there was no reason of wasting prayers and tears on that urchin then.

If young Lee had gotten the right kind of a prescription when he needed it earlier in life, he might have been saved from the humiliating and painful occurrence that has given his parents so much concern.

Teachers make mistakes just like other people, but usually a teacher is interested—heart, soul and body—in the welfare of his school, and outsiders should be slow to criticise.

AT THE PALACE GRAND

The attraction offered for tonight and tomorrow evening at the Palace Grand theater on Brand boulevard is "The Redemption of David Corson," with William Farnum, one of the most distinguished artists on the American stage, playing the leading role.

The story has many unusually vital situations. For consistent appeal, it is one of the greatest subjects ever secured for the screen, and William Farnum's art in depicting the character of David Corson is inimitable and indescribable. He simply lives the part, both in the moments of exaltation and in those miserable hours that follow his downfall. Few stories so quickly and completely reach the heart as Chas. Frederic Goss, noted tale of a man's temptation, transgression and regeneration.

"The Redemption of David Corson" is a tense drama of a man's desperate struggle with himself, and his final triumph. It is a story that typifies the everlasting conflict between the human and divine. It is a pictorial inspiration, a drama with a conscience. Frequently in the course of the narrative the warm tears and the sympathetic heart throbs will be forced upon the observer as William Farnum's art portrays the character of the Quaker who is tempted, falls and who later rises, finding in the ashes of despairing hope a flickering spark of his old-time faith. Throughout, the story is vitally impressive, with just enough spiritual beauty to inspire as well as interest.

"The Redemption of David Corson" is a notable film production. It is mounted with a superb lavishness, has beautiful scenery, some unusual camera effects and a capable cast. Above all else, William Farnum's superb acting will live long in the memory of all who see this picture. He makes a perfect David Corson.

Friends of Mrs. J. E. Bahrenberg of 1352 Park avenue will be pleased to learn that she is almost completely recovered from the attack of bronchitis from which she has been suffering for some time.

TO OPEN ON TIME

GREAT PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR OPENING DAY AT SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 14—One notable feature of the great celebration to be held in San Diego at the time of the opening of the San Diego exposition, on January 1st, will be a parade of automobiles in the afternoon of that day, which, from the number of entries already in, promises to be the longest parade ever seen on the Pacific coast.

Automobile parties from every city and town in Southern California and from many cities in Arizona are being formed at the present time, and plans are being laid for the pilgrimages to San Diego. Each of the cities will provide banners, pennants and flags for the decoration of the automobiles, and the committee in charge of the celebration in San Diego will provide parking spaces for the machines upon their arrival in San Diego.

It is expected that all of the automobile parties will reach San Diego on December 31, in order that the members be able to take part in the New Year's eve festivities, and attend the ceremonials at midnight, when the lights of the exposition are to be turned on by President Wilson, who will touch a button in the White House, and when the great key of the exposition will be turned over to President Davidson by the builders of the exposition, with appropriate ceremonies.

At 2 o'clock of the afternoon of January 1 the great automobile parade will be formed on the downtown streets of San Diego. It will be divided into sections, each city or town represented having its section, in which automobiles from that particular place, bearing banners, pennants and flags announcing whence they came, will be placed.

The Automobile Club of Southern California is taking an active part in the preparations for this grand spectacle, and its members have been asked to aid in securing the attendance of as many automobile parties as possible on this occasion.

LOCAL LADY SPEAKING BEFORE DIFFERENT CLUBS

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of this city addressed the Long Beach Woman's City club at Hotel Virginia on Saturday afternoon. This is a club of about 330 members. Mrs. Jones is chairman of the political science department of Los Angeles district of the California Federation of Women's clubs and her subject on Saturday was "The Privileges and Responsibilities of the Franchise for Women." Mrs. Jones' address was followed by Mayor Whealton, who spoke on "Some Problems in City Government."

Other bodies before which Mrs. Jones will speak in the near future are the Gardena Progressive club, the Whittier club, the Saturday Afternoon club of Downey and the Montebello Woman's club.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Mr. Roy Hurley, 18 years old, of La Crescenta, met with a very painful accident on Saturday evening. Mr. Hurley, with another young man, was riding a tandem motorcycle at the corner of Broadway and Brand boulevard when an automobile driven by Alvin Saunders, son of the owner of the car, rounded the corner and ran into the motorcycle, throwing both boys to the ground and severely injuring the Hurley boy, who sustained a broken and dislocated ankle and minor bruises. He was carried into Munson's drug store, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Teel and he was then taken to his home. The other boy was not injured.

WAR TAX STATISTICS

LARGE NUMBER OF COMMODITIES COME UNDER BAN OF NEW LAW

What is this new federal war tax? Who has to pay it? What do they have to pay on and how much? Where do they get the stamps? How much do they cost? What do they do with them after they get them?

The tax is one created to help fill up the holes in the federal revenues left by the European war and the tariff revision. It applies to various alcoholic liquors, tobacco, proprietary articles, certain persons, institutions and documents. In the case of articles and documents, stamps of the right denomination are to be purchased at the office of Collector Carter in the Federal building, Los Angeles, and affixed as hereinafter described:

There are various sets of stamps used, the denominations for wines and cordials being for ¼ cent, ½ cent, 1 cent, 1½ cents, 2 cents, 3 cents, 4 cents, 5 cents, 6 cents, 8 cents, 10 cents, 20 cents, 24 cents, 40 cents and $2.

For proprietary articles the denominations are as follows: One-eighth cent, ¼ cent, ⅜ cent, ⅝ cent, 1¼ cent, 1⅞ cent, 2¼ cents, 3⅛ cents, 3¾ cents, 4⅜ cents, 5 cents, 6 cents, 8 cents and 10 cents.

The documentary stamps are as follows in denominations: One-half cent, 1 cent, 2 cents, 3 cents, 4 cents, 5 cents, 10 cents, 25 cents, 40 cents, 50 cents, $1, $2, $3, $5, $10, $30, $50 and $100.

In affixing stamps on proprietary packages, they should be placed so that they will be destroyed when the package is opened. Stamps on wines and documents must be canceled, and the initials of the party, with the date of such cancellation, written on the stamps. Where the tax exceeds $10, three sharp parallel lines must be drawn through the stamps so as to perforate and destroy them.

Following is a synopsis of the law, giving the article and tax assessed:

Agreements of sale of merchandise on exchanges, each $100—1 cent.

Banks (except savings banks having no capital stock and postal savings banks), on each $1000 of capital, surplus and undivided profits employed—$1.

Bonds, debentures, certificates of indebtedness of any association, corporation or company, new issues, $100 par value each—5 cents.

Brokers' notes or memorandum of sale, including stocks, bonds, real estate, etc.—10 cents.

Chewing gum, each container of actual value or not more than $1 retail—4 cents.

Commercial brokers and commission merchants—20 cents.

Deeds of realty transfers, mortgages excepted, when equity exceeds $100 and up to $500—50 cents.

Beer, ale, porter and other similar fermented liquor for every barrel of not more than thirty-one gallons—other quantities proportionate—$1.50.

Still wines, domestic or imported, per bottle of one-fourth pint or less—one-fourth cent.

Domestic and imported champagne and other sparkling wines, bottle, or half pint or less—5 cents.

Bottles containing up to one quart are taxed 20 cents, and this is increased proportionately up to containers of one quart, the tax on which is 20 cents.

GLENDALE WINS, 51--23

G. U. H. S. BASKETBALL TEAM DEFEATS SOUTH PASADENA—TENNIS TEAM ALSO WINS

South Pasadena seems to have a hobby of losing, at least the same sure seems true, considering the fact that the Glendale Union high school tennis and basketball teams walloped their opposition last Saturday on the local courts. And this double defeat is not the first suffered by South Pasadena from Glendale this season, for the G. U. H. S. debating team won from the representatives of that school.

The basketball game—the first league game of the season—was a loosely played affair, and the visitors didn't show much class, which of course assisted the score in climbing to the grand total of 51-23.

"Bennie" Nichols put up a fine game, an exhibition something unusual for a new member of a team, and his fast work aided materially in running up the score. "Sonny" Latter was another star for the local team and played in his usual excellent form. Coole at forward was replaced by Livingston in the last half after a safe margin had been made by the locals. Both did good work. Hasty Bidwell, Glendale's stellar center, played a most consistent game, working out many pretty team plays. Kolts at guard played a steady game. All of Coach Wight's men were in good form and have made a fine beginning in the race for the suburban league championship.

A big rally was held at the high school Friday and as a result five hundred rooters were out at the game. Referee Horning of the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. gave excellent satisfaction. The teams lined up as follows:

Glendale—Forwards, Nichols, Livingston and Coole; center, Bidwell; guards, Latter and Kolts.

South Pasadena—Forwards, Hadden and Kelly; center, Freeman; guards, Beasley, Allen and Dewar.

The next league game will be played with Harvard military academy on the local court Thursday afternoon. This game should prove more interesting than Saturday's affair and a good crowd of loyal boosters is expected. Game will be called at 3:45.

Tennis Team Wins 9-8

The high school tennis team won its "setto" with the South Pasadena team at the same time the basketball boys were "doing things." However, the tennis team didn't have such an easy task. "Bill" Balthis, the freshman midget of the local team, was the only player who won both of his matches. The final totals were 9-8.

Glendale Ties El Monte

The Glendale baseball team played a tie game on the El Monte diamond yesterday afternoon. The game was called at the end of the tenth inning with the score 2-2. Galt and Bourne scored for the locals, Galt making his tally on a home run. Hasty Bidwell pitched for the locals.

BRUCE BROWN CONTINUES

Those who were present at the Christian church services on Sunday were not surprised that the week's rally led by Rev. Bruce Brown has developed into a protracted service which will continue indefinitely. Mr. Brown had a week's interim between appointments, which he agreed to give to Glendale, but the interest is so marked and the prospects for a successful campaign are so bright, that he has been prevailed upon to cancel an engagement and continue the work here.

The morning service on "Memorials" was very fitting, but the sermon on "The Unpardonable Sin," which was delivered to a packed house in the evening, was one of the greatest ever delivered in Glendale. This was the opinion expressed by many. Mr. Brown made it very clear from the Scripture that the sin against the Holy Ghost is the rejection of him as the only means of salvation, or the only "ladder" by means of which we may reach Heaven.

Fifteen additions to the church, nearly all by confession, are the visible results so far. The address on "Christ Before Pilate" is Mr. Brown's finale, so will not be delivered until the close of the meetings.

Many visitors from other churches were in Sunday evening's audience and their interest was very marked. They are most welcome. You are most cordially and earnestly invited.

MISSIONARY MEETING

If you have not attended a missionary meeting this year, you will certainly be present at the meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society Tuesday, Dec. 15, at 2:30, when a Christmas program will be given under the direction of Mrs. Preston and her committee.

GLENDALE HEAVENW'RD

REV. JOHN E. BROWN, ASSISTED BY PROF. CURRY, ENGAGED FOR UNION REVIVAL

Judged by the big plans of the local churches of Glendale, Tropico and Casa Verdugo, the month of February of 1915 will witness the greatest stir in religious and social circles in the history of this locality. The growth of the community makes it possible to do a big thing for God and his church. Brown and Curry are known everywhere and are universally successful in reaching the people. To thousands they are known in connection with the Huntington Beach camp meeting, where year after year they have been invited to return and always coming with still greater blessing. In inviting them to come over into the San Fernando Macedonia, the local pastors have made a good choice, for these men have the unbounded confidence of all ministers and laymen who have had dealings with them, and the fact that they repeatedly return to the same field has great weight with everybody.

The largest auditorium in Glendale would not care for half the people who will want to take in these revival services. In a few weeks there will be constructed on Maryland avenue near Third street a huge wooden tabernacle seating considerably more than a thousand, and for once the citizens of this region will be able to sit under one roof comfortably.

The biggest business in the world is the business of winning souls to the best life now, and to the hope of a glorious destiny in eternity. Extraordinary indifference to spiritual verities calls for extraordinary efforts to arrest the people and bring them face to face with God and the purpose of their being. Brown and Curry are needed in this place and when they come, a united church led by a united body of clergymen, will welcome them and follow their leadership earnestly and to the last dot.

MRS. J. LEDGER

Mrs. Minnie Ledger, wife of Mr. J. Ledger, passed away at her home, 1564 Oak street, Glendale, at seven o'clock on the evening of Saturday, December 12.

Mrs. Ledger was born in Iowa, on February 16, 1877. She had resided in California the past nine years, five years of that time having been spent in Glendale. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband and three brothers, who reside in Iowa.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon from the parlors of the Scovern-Letton-Frey Co. at Tropico. Cremation at Los Angeles crematory.

ENTERTAINS FOR BIBLE CLASS TEACHER

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Carrie C. Adams of 469 Pacific avenue entertained in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Ellen Cooke. Members of the party were the ladies' Bible class of the West Glendale M. E. church, of which class Mrs. Cook is teacher. Mrs. Adams' home was prettily decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and roses. A dainty luncheon was served and all present spent a most enjoyable afternoon. Besides the hostess, those present were Mesdames Cooke, Bradley, Ward, Nesbit, Jordan, Blake, Burrington, Barry, Moak, Schlachter, Hoskyn and Elliott. Mrs. Cook was presented with an electric pocket flashlight as a token of regard.

PRODUCING PICTURE COMPANY

There is being brought to the attention of members of the Chamber of Commerce at the present time the proposition of organizing a moving picture producing company in Glendale. It has come quite forcibly to the minds of a few Southern Californians that there is an urgent demand for a better class of pictures—the educational kind.

Mr. De La Parelle, who recently prepared "The Hoosier Schoolmaster" for the movie world, is the gentleman who is agitating the formation of a new company, and if such a company is formed, he would likely be chosen as its director. The Chamber of Commerce committee, Messrs. J. F. Lilly, H. A. Wilson and A. T. Cowan, are diligently inquiring into the merits of the parties who are asking that the chamber endorse the ones who are interested in the new company. Mr. De La Parelle says he has a picture all ready to put on as soon as the company is formed. "The Hoosier Schoolmaster" will be shown all holiday week at Clune's in Los Angeles. Persons wishing to learn of Mr. De La Parelle's ability as a director may judge for themselves by visiting the theater and witnessing the picture.

THOUSANDS OF AUTOS ARE NEEDED FOR 1915

One of the big problems now confronting the 1915 general committee is how to get all of the automobiles needed during the big conventions next year in Los Angeles county. The entertainment plans call for showing delegates all parts of the county and giving them an idea of the extent, resources and beauty of this favored section.

At the last meeting of the 1915 general committee, Herbert L. Cornish, chairman of the automobile committee, was authorized to employ clerical help in order to get a record of every machine in the county, whether it will be available for tours, and other details, so that when the call comes the tours may be arranged without delay.

The huge open air entertainment program was adopted. Because the county, under the law, cannot finance the amusement proposition, a company will be incorporated from members of the 1915 general committee, which will stage the big spectacles of the year. Any profits that may be derived will be devoted to the work of the general committee.

The Beautifying Los Angeles committee reported that the rose trellises have been placed along 200 miles of boulevards and eighty miles of the roses planted.

The list of entertainments includes novel stunts for the sailors of the United States battleship fleet that is expected in the harbor in March, a May festival for one week, a rodeo, a pageant of the old Southwest, moving picture making, a pageant, "The Wedding of the Oceans," in June, "Fighting the Flames," electrical parades and, in brief, everything that will make the Glorious Southland more inviting while acting as host to the world.

Arbitration affords a fair, peaceful, non-disastrous method of adjusting industrial differences.

Announcements

W. C. T. U. ATTENTION

On account of illness, the meeting announced for Friday afternoon, Dec. 18th, will be held with Mrs. D. A. Fitch, corner of Second and Isabel streets, instead of at the home of Mrs. P. A. C. Moore.

On Thursday evening of this week there will be a meeting of the Sunday school board of the West Glendale Methodist church in the chapel. Election of officers will be held and other business pertaining to the Sunday school discussed. It is desired that all officers and teachers be present.

ELKS' PATROL DANCE

The first dance of the season to be given by the Elks' Patrol will be held Thursday evening, December 17, at Butler's hall. Tickets are 35c. Nothing more need be said, for the mere mention of the Elks' Patrol insures a good time.

The literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. E. H. Willisford, 231 Orange street. Rollcall will be answered by each member with a reminiscence of the first Christmas she remembers. Current events will be read by Mrs. Harriet M. White, "Two Years Before the Mast" by Mrs. Frank Grosvenor, and a review of "Ramona" by Mrs. Edgar Leavitt.

MUSICALE TONIGHT

Rain last Friday evening interfered with the musicale and card party which was to have been given by the people of the Holy Family Catholic parish, and that event was postponed until this evening. This postponement will not interfere in the least with the excellence of the program and a large crowd is being prepared for at Masonic hall this evening.

Mrs. John R. Barrows, accompanist for the benefit concert to be given by the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club tomorrow evening at Masonic temple, reports that excellent work is being done by those taking part in the program, and a most enjoyable evening is in store for music lovers of Glendale. The concert will begin promptly at eight o'clock and doors will be closed during numbers, so those who attend should be on time.

The program will consist of a piano solo by Miss Ruby Dale, a reading by Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan, piano and violin duet by Miss Frances Payne and Mrs. Eugene Muhrman, and an address by Judge Curtis Wilbur of Los Angeles, who will take for his theme "Our Boys and Girls." There will be refreshments served and Mrs. H. W. Yarick, president of the association, and her officers are hoping for a large attendance of the patrons of the school. Father will be duly honored on this occasion and perhaps he may hear some things he should know.

THE CINDERELLA CLUB

Mrs. H. V. Everly was hostess on Saturday afternoon to the members of the Cinderella Sewing club. Bouquets of red carnations and Christmas bells breathed the holiday spirit and informality pervaded the gathering. The near approach of Christmas caused fingers to fly fast in fashioning dainty things for holiday gifts.

The two-course luncheon daintily served by Mrs. Everly was very much enjoyed.

JUST A CORRECTION

Through an error in copying the names of guests at the party given on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Buchanan of 115 Orange Grove avenue, the names of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gould were omitted. The News desires to correct the error at this time.

1.07 INCHES RAINFALL

The rain of the past few days has been a great gift to the people of Southern California, and particularly to the ranchers, as it came just when most needed. Southern California seems to be especially favored in the matter of climate this year, and it is a joy to see the hills already beginning to show the green and to know that in a few short days they will be like velvet with the fresh green grass though the mountains are still covered with snow. The rainfall for the storm, according to Mr. H. E. Bartlett, is 1.07 inches, and for the season to date 2.74 inches.

A SPELLING LESSON

What does ghoughphtheightteean spell?

Do you give it up? It spells potato—that is, according to the following: Gh stands for p, as you will find from the last letters in hiccough; ough for o, as in dough; phth stands for t, as in phthisis; eigh stands for a, as in neighbor; tte stands for t, as in grisette, and eau stands for o, as in beau.

Thus you have p-o-t-a-t-o.

Now let congress get busy with its knitting and eliminate all idle talk.

JOSEPH SMITH DIES

Thursday afternoon at Independence, Mo., Joseph Smith, president of the reorganized church of the Latter Day Saints, breathed his last, leaving a wife, six sons and two daughters to mourn him. Eight years ago Joseph Smith had a revelation that caused him to appoint his eldest son, Frederick M. Smith, to succeed him. This son is now 37 years old and at his father's death automatically becomes leader of the church.

A history of Joseph Smith, who was a son of Joseph Smith, prophet and founder of Mormonism, is a history of the Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints. He brought together the little bands of Mormons in Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, left behind when the main body emigrated to Utah. He became the first president of the reorganized church and held that office more than half a century until his death. He was born November 6, 1832, at Kirtland, Ohio, and had been blind for several years. Joseph Smith was opposed to polygamy and did all he could to stamp it out of the church.

IMPORTANT FACTS AND FIGURES IN ANNIVERSARY NUMBER

It is with pleasure we note the interest that is being taken by citizens in purchasing copies of the anniversary number of the Glendale Evening News to send to relatives and friends in the East. Even many people of Glendale are recognizing the fact that it is a good plan to have a copy of the anniversary number on file in every home. There are important facts and figures that will serve as valuable reference in the future.

LEMONS FOR CHARITY

The city of San Fernando has set aside Saturday of this week as San Fernando lemon day, and will come into Los Angeles with large motor trucks loaded down with approximately ten tons of the finest San Fernando valley lemons, to be sold by San Fernando girls at street corners, the gross proceeds to be given to the Children's hospital and the United Charities.

All these lemons are donated by the growers of the valley. The donor of each case of lemons designates whether the proceeds from the sale of that particular case shall go to the Children's hospital or to the United Charities. So far the major part of the contributions have been assigned to the hospital fund. Mrs. Jack Egbert of San Fernando will have charge of the sales of these cases.

It's pleasant to realize that we live in blizzardless California.

IN SNOWSTORM

Editor Palmer of the Hollywood Citizen, in describing a trip to the Grand Canyon, says in part:

It was the good fortune of the party to be favored with a snowstorm on the first afternoon at the canyon—especially our good fortune, as we were all from Southern California and knew that we did not have a season of snowstorms facing us and would soon be back amid the roses and the oranges. But it was not so cold that even the Californians could not go out for long walks to enjoy the wonders of that enormous, awful, wondrous chasm, as the sun shone upon parts, the rain fell upon other parts, the clouds flittered over others and the snow came down upon us. In one look into that great canyon we could observe every kind of weather, and we were even favored with the appearance of a great rainbow stretching down the side of one of the huge peaks, adding its radiance, hues and gorgeousness to the ever-changing colors and shades of the peaks and precipices that stand before one in that awful gap.

Conditions may change so radically, in time, that the American people will be disposed to sing the doxology at the opening of congress instead of at the closing of its sessions.

NORTH GLENDALE

The North Central avenue school Parent-Teacher association met last Thursday afternoon. A musical program was rendered by Miss Helen Thompson, Miss Kathleen Campbell and Master Byron England, after which Mrs. I. Ross Kurtz, chairman of patriotism, read an interesting paper on the American flag, and all present were asked to salute Old Glory, which was held by one of the pupils of the fifth grade. After the business session, which was presided over by the president, Mrs. N. C. Kelly, the national chairman of membership, Mrs. Noble, spoke on the work of the association in general and a question box was opened for all who wished information. Several questions were handed to Mrs. Noble and were answered in an especially interesting manner, which was followed by a social hour, which was enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. John Murphy of 1648 Ruth street, with her aunt, Mrs. Leo Hamlin, who has just returned from an extended stay in Los Vegas, Nev., were guests of Mrs. Murphy's sister, Mrs. Philip Ballerino, of 409 North Hoover street, Los Angeles, for the week-end.

Mrs. J. C. Dennerlen of 1304 North Central avenue had the pleasure of entertaining as her house guest for the past week Miss Grace Breckinridge of Los Angeles.

Miss Ruby F. Wright of 1649 Ruth street was the guest of Mrs. A. M. Adkins and daughter, Mrs. Morton Estes of 119 West Avenue Twenty-nine, Los Angeles, last Saturday.

Mr. Nat Browne of 1620 Stocker street, with Mr. Browne's brother, Mr. Harry Browne; Miss Rae Davis of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Lafferty and Mrs. Lafferty's house guest, Miss Elizabeth Hillman of Los Angeles, formed a merry party who motored to Altadena Sunday and were guests of Messrs Browne's aunt and cousin, Mrs. Varerie Miller, and her daughter, Miss Jessie Miller of Bryn Mawr, who are spending the winter in California and who have taken a cottage at the foot of Mount Lowe. During the afternoon the party enjoyed a mountain climb and a picnic luncheon, thus having a most delightful time.

CLOCK TOWER ON GARAGE

Los Angeles Times: If you had the good fortune to be possessor of a palatial foothill home, but had no "stable" for your machine in connection therewith, would you confine your efforts to merely one more reproduction of the hundreds of garages in the surrounding country?

John Brockman, owner of the Brockman building, faced just such a dilemma and settled it by building a four-story clock tower on his Casa Verdugo estate—one of the unique garages of the world.

Constructed of the same material as the house, which stands near it, the tower carries on the ground floor a garage containing sufficient space for three cars. On the second floor is the billiard room, opening out on a balcony overlooking the entire estate. The third floor provides sleeping quarters for the chauffeur, and is connected with an outside door, obviating the necessity of the chauffeur's disturbing those in the billiard room in going to his room. Then on the fourth floor, in a tiny room with a great clock's face covering each wall, except that facing back toward the hills, is the huge clock itself.

Every Sunday the head gardener on Mr. Brockman's estate winds up the new clock and its hourly toll can be heard several miles. It keeps time perfectly. The clock's weights run from the fourth to the first floor. This great length for the weights is necessary to keep the clock running a week, and was one object of the tower's height. The clock automatically lights its three faces at six o'clock each evening and extinguishes them at 2 o'clock.

Vying in interest with the clock tower on the Brockman estate is the artificial lake which has been nearly completed. It is charmingly situated in a grove of eucalyptus trees, and conifers have been planted on several of the miniature islands dotting the lake. The feature which makes this lake unique among all others of its kind is a huge granite crown built near the center on a level with the water. This crown is a copy of the German imperial insignia of royalty. On the four uppermost projections of the crown statues of some of Germany's great will be placed. Two hundred and forty electric lights are used to outline the crown at night, and an automatic spray placed at the crown's center will further beautify this novel conception.

All the trees in and surrounding the lake have been electrically wired. Thus, at the touch of a button, they will be decked out like so many Christmas trees with their colored lights, and this reflection in the water will transform the scene into one of rich enchantment.

An arching bridge spans the water from the bank to one of the diminutive islands, and concrete steps placed above the water mark lead to another of the islands, on which seats are placed here and there. An abundance of flowers and ferns are awaiting removal from the courtyard at the rear of the residence to give the final embellishment to the lake and its habiliments.

Other improvements recently completed on the grounds are a large addition to the house itself and a stucco and tile archway over the drive at the west of the house. Altogether, the improvements, which are continually being furthered, will aggregate an autput of about $30,000.

Mr. Brockman's estate covers seventy acres of Casa Verdugo foothill country. A large part of this is reserved for a deer park. Five years ago Mr. Brockman obtained seven deer from Mexico, and now a herd of more than sixty of the beautiful animals range the higher slopes of the estate.

At the beginning of the year Mr. Brockman, at present occupying his residence at 814 West Twenty-eighth street, hopes to make his permanent home at the Casa Verdugo estate.

READY FOR TOURNAMENT OF ROSES RACES

E. J. Levengood of Chino, with his eighteen prancing thoroughbreds, has arrived in Pasadena, the horses being taken to Tournament park, where they will be gotten into shipshape for the tournament races on New Year's day.

Levengood has driven in every tournament race for the past seven years and he has with him again the famous team of sorrels with which he won in the races last year. He has an additional team of thoroughbred beauties—chestnut sorrels that were raised on the "Lucky Baldwin" ranch.

E. B. Cornell of Porterville and Harry Fitzgerald of Fresno, who are well known in Pasadena, have also arrived and have their fine thoroughbreds in training. Tom Green, the other driver in the chariot races, will be in that city shortly.

Aside from the races, the prizes offered for the parade are said to be handsomer and more unique than ever before.

Perhaps the most conspicuous figure in the parade will be little Miss Dextra McClaughry, daughter of Mrs. Anita Baldwin McClaughry. She will ride in the handsomest of the twenty floats, which will represent "an hour in fairyland."

Imagination is responsible for half of our troubles—and our fool actions for the other half.
